Roosevelt Debates Idea Of Special Session Of Congress In Fall

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Possible loss of three key figures in the New Deal administration gave President Roosevelt concern today.

Attractive jobs have been offered to Postmaster General James A. Farley, White House Secretary Stephen T. Early and Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward McGrady.

All May Quit.

There were strong indications all three might quit government service shortly for positions in private industry carrying heavy pay.

The president was understood to be urging this important trio of aides to remain with him particularly during the immediate future when he is considering a speaking swing across the country and the call of a special session of congress.

Big Jim Farley, who doubles in brass as postmaster general and chairman of the Democratic national committee, has been offered an executive position with a leading automobile firm. Best information was that, while he may eventually

One nice thing about the political campaign is that the fellows who smoke don't have to buy any more matches. Nearly all the candidates are giving matches away, and some of those on the receiving end have enough laid away to last them several years.

Bugs and humans seem to have much in common. For instance bugs are attracted by an electric arc light and humans are drawn to electric signs and brilliantly lighted windows. The only difference seems to be that usually the bug gives up his life and the human his dough.

In spite of all warnings, and laws there are some motorists who will try to pass a car ahead near the top of a hill, as demonstrated out the Butler road recently when a serious crash occurred. The best thing that can be done with motorists who won't observe the laws is to take their driving licenses away permanently.

A lot of people seem more concerned about when the antlerless deer season comes in, than in filling their coal bins. No Applications for licenses will be taken by the county treasurer until September 15, but you can make an application for a load of coal any day.

Soviet Signs Pact Aimed At Japan

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Aug. 30.—In a stinging blow at Japan, Soviet Russia today assumed the obligation of giving no aid to any nation guilty of aggression against China.

This was the main provision of a Soviet-Chinese pact of non-aggression signed in Nanking August 21, but in Japanese circles the fear was openly expressed that the instrument carries secret military clauses.

Reliable Soviet authorities indicated, however, that Russia would act only if outer Mongolia, to which the Soviets are bound by a mutual assistance pact, is attacked by Japan.

Provisions Of Treaty

Four articles of the new treaty provide:

1—China and Russia agree to abstain from any aggression against the other individually or with one or more other powers.

2—In the event either signatory is subjected to aggression by one

Mother Kills Six Children; Ends Own Life

Leaves Farewell Note To Husband In Tragedy At Iowa Home

GAS IS USED TO END SEVEN LIVES

(International News Service)

DENISON, Ia., Aug. 30—A strange document of sorrow and heartbreak, the farewell note written by his wife before she killed herself and six children served as a poignant reminder of "what might have been" to the bereft husband today.

The six page letter was found in the living room of the small farm house where yesterday Albert Nollen came upon the bodies of his wife Elsie, 30, and their children.

Killed By Gas

All had been killed by carbon monoxide piped into the house by the hose from a mashing machine she had attached to the exhaust of the family car.

In explanation for taking the lives of her children as well as herself the anguished mother wrote:

"I'm doing this because I see this family is not going to be raised up right and I think it is a shame to let them grow up to live such a life themselves."

Find Bodies

Nollen reported he found the bodies when he returned home after spending the evening in town. Mrs. Nollen was lying on a bed clasping her 2-year-old daughter, Viola, in her arms, Leona, 4, was on the floor beside the bed. The other four children were heaped in the living room. They were Orvin, 11, Wilbert, 10, Pauline, 7, and Earl, 6.

Nollen, his wife and three of the eldest children had spent the afternoon in town buying the youngsters clothing and school supplies for the start of their classwork Monday.

Auto Crash Near Columbus Injures Local Residents

Locals On Way To Visit Friends Have Accident Near Columbus Ohio

About 12 miles this side of Columbus, O., an automobile driven by local people, featured in a crash Friday afternoon while enroute to that city to visit with friends.

The local machine was being driven by Rev. W. W. Sniff, retired pastor of the Madison Avenue Christian church, and now a resident of Scott township. In the car with him were Mrs. J. B. Dufford of 810 Arlington avenue, and Mrs. Helen Logan of DuShane street.

They were enroute to the home of Mrs. Mary Yoders of Columbus, who is a relative of Mrs. Dufford.

According to word received here by James Dufford, son of Mrs. Dufford, their machine was struck while rounding a curve about 12 miles from their destination. Full details regarding the crash were not learned in the communication.

It was also learned that Rev. Sniff received chest injuries and a fractured rib. Mrs. Dufford suffered a broken shoulder and minor bruises and cuts. Mrs. Logan was fortunate to only receive a number of cuts and bruises.

Rev. Sniff and Mrs. Dufford were taken to the Columbus hospital following the accident and their injuries treated. They were then taken to the Yoder's home in Columbus.

It will require three or four weeks for Mrs. Dufford's shoulder to set before the party will be able to return to New Castle.

Legal Speed Limit Higher Wednesday

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 30.—The commonwealth will give its "go ahead" increasing the legal speed limit for Pennsylvania motorists but will raise a deterring hand on women's work this Wednesday.

Two major items on Gov. George H. Earle's legislative program along with many other more minor ones, a "streamlined" motor code and the women's 44-hour work week bill, go into effect at that time, September 1.

The state industrial board, administering the women's work bill, was to meet here today to formulate a general policy of enforcement and issue final rules and regulations. It is studying more than 160 requests for exemptions, asked by scores of industries and businesses.

The new motor code changes, which also reduce drivers' license fees from $2 to $1, are expected to cause more than a little trouble to municipalities, although the revisions were looked upon as a boon to motorists.

The code outlaws 20-mile speed limits, permitting municipalities to establish upwards of 25-mile limits, providing official markers are set up every eighth of a mile.

Bombing Of U. S. Ship Causes Deep Concern In Official Circles

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30—The bombing today in China waters of the American Dollar Liner President Hoover aroused deep concern in official quarters here and sent state department officials into instant action.

First word of the attack on the passenger liner, which was returning to Shanghai from Manila, where she had deposited several hundred refugees, reached the state department through International News Service. Officials immediately dispatched urgent radio messages requesting full details to the American consulate-general in Shanghai.

Scout Mistaken Identity Idea

Naval authorities scouted the suggestion that the attacking aircraft might have mistaken the President Hoover for a Japanese troop transport, declaring the structural differences between the two types of vessels would be so vast that a casual observer could easily distinguish between them, even from a great height.

These authorities asserted the

Auto Crashes Into Rear Of Truck Near Zelienople Early Today

BOTH OF VICTIMS FROM PITTSBURGH

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—Two men were killed early today when an automobile crashed into the rear of a truck which they were pushing on the Perry highway between Zelienople and Warrendale, according to Deputy Coroner Stanley Guzenski.

The victims were Robert Bradac, 29, and Theodore Fite, 23, both of Northside, Pittsburgh. The driver of the automobile was Ralph Whickert, 48, also of Pittsburgh, according to Guzenski. Whickert and his wife Mary, 35, were in the West Penn hospital with head injuries. John Conroy of Pittsburgh, helping to push the truck, suffered a leg injury.

Guzenski said the truck broke down while Bradac, Fite and Conroy and four others were returning from a picnic near Evans City. The impact of the collision, Guzinski said, hurled the truck into a cornfield. Alfred Cooper of McKeesport told Guzenski he and two other men pulled Bradac's broken body from the top of the motor of the wrecked automobile.

Whickert was quoted by Guzenski as stating the rear light of the truck was not burning and that he did not see the vehicle until it was too late to avoid a collision.

New Demand From Britain

Removal Of Chinese War From Shanghai Zone Is Demanded

EMPHATIC NOTE SENT TO JAPAN

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 30.—With the one-two blows of a heavyweight boxer Great Britain today backed up her "emphatic protest" in the wounding of London's ambassador to China with a vigorous new demand for removal of the Chinese war from the Shanghai zone.

While the government awaited from Japan the "fullest measure of redress" in the ambassador incident, James L. Dodds, charge d'affaires in Tokyo, was instructed to press anew for acceptance of the British proposal for neutralizing the war shattered Shanghai area.

One of the strongest diplomatic notes since the World War and the sharpest reprimand ever administered to Japan since she became a world power, the British protest puts it up to Japan to apologize formally for the machine-gunning of Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, or lose face in world opinion.

Sizzling words reached the eyes of Japanese ministers when the note was presented in Tokyo. "Negligence and a complete disregard for civilian life" were charged. Attacks on non-combatants were called "as illegal as they are inhuman." Every argument that Japan might advance was anticipated and answered in advance.

China Claims Bombing Accidental—Tension Becomes Distinctly More Grave

By M. C. FORD

SHANGHAI, Aug. 30.—In open defiance of the neutrality emblazoned in the American flags fluttering from her mastheads, a fleet of Chinese war planes bombed the 21,936-ton American Dollar Liner President Hoover on the high seas 50 miles off the coast of wartorn Shanghai today.

Seven members of the luxury vessel's crew of 320 and three of her 257 passengers were injured when four huge bombing planes went into a power dive and dropped their death-dealing missiles on her decks.

Japan Foresees New Alignment

Fearful Of Anglo-American Lineup Against Nation Is Under Way

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Aug. 30—Highest army authorities, clearly alarmed over international developments, today openly bared the fear that the combination of Britain's sharp protest and the new Russo-Chinese non-aggression pact means allignment of Western nations including the United States against Japan.

Stearn oriental silence, both official and public, greeted Britain's thundering note, but the Kokumin Shimbun, official organ of the Japanese army, declared authoritatively:

"The way is now being prepared for traditional Anglo-American action.

"This fact, coupled with the intimacy of Franco-Soviet relations encourages the fear that the attitude of the United States, Great Britain, France, and the Soviets is assuming more serious proportions.

"It will soon be recognized beyond any doubt that these powers are attempting to exert political pressure on Japan."

They know I do not fishing go, and do not hunt for bait, that's why they lie the way they do, the weather's eighty eight.

LOYALISTS GAIN TERRITORY

Big Battle Now Raging In Spain

Rebels Also Claim Victories In Sector West Of Santander

AIRPLANES AGAIN RAID VALENCIA

(International News Service)

MADRID, Aug. 30.—Scores of square miles of territory fell into loyalist hands and casualties on both sides rapidly mounted as government troops in one of the biggest operations of the civil war surged forward on three fronts northeast of here.

Rebel victories, meanwhile, were claimed on the sector west of Santander.

The most ferocious fighting centered on Belchite, city of 4,000 on the Saragossa sector. Belchite is fully surrounded by loyalist forces, but its desperately battling rebel defenders refused to surrender.

Leftist Army Advances.

One leftist army advanced from Mediana toward Burgo De Ebro and reached a point less than 12 miles from historic Saragossa, which now is threatened from three sides.

Another column along the 50-mile Huesca-Saragossa front reached San Mateo.

Isolating a large force of rebels at Rosalas Del Deque, loyalists smashed forward in the Guaralajaara sector and cut the road from San Francisco. In a new offensive in that section, Madrid announced, the towns of Alcala El Donajo and Tuejar Sierra were taken.

Six insurgent airplanes raided Valencia, the temporary capital, dropping bombs for two hours, but only three persons were killed and several wounded.

In the Terual sector, where a government column is trying to cut off the spear-head of the insurgent salient, loyalist troops "bettered their positions" south of the Cuenca road, Madrid announced.

BOMBING OF U. S. SHIP CAUSES DEEP CONCERN IN OFFFICIAL CIRCLES

navy was prepared to offer passenger liners, if necessary, armed convoys through the waters under Japanese blockade.

Pending complete information on the incident, official action was being withheld, but the seriousness of the attack—it marked the first time in the Sino-Jap conflict that there has been a deliberate attack on the American flag—brought the undeclared war in North China to its gravest phase from the American viewpoint since its beginning about two months ago.

Planes Not Identified

The state department sought in particular to ascertain officially the identity of the four huge bombing planes which dropped high explosives on the refugee-filled American liner. The identity of these planes was not immediately definitely established, although first reports indicated they may have been Chinese ships.

Grave new international complications were feared in the wake of the bombing.

A sharp protest, officials said, will be dispatched immediately upon certain establishment of the identity of the attackers. Secretary of State Hull already has twice sternly warned Japan and China that American lives, rights and property must be respected by both belligerents.

Attack Deliberate

Added gravity was lent to the situation by the fact that there appeared little doubt that the bombing attack was deliberate and unprovoked, officials said here.

It was pointed out the Dollar Liner was flying over-size American flags. Both Chinese and Japanese military authorities have been fully informed of the movements of American passenger vessels which have been pressed into service to speed evacuation of American refugees from Shanghai.

Japan has assured the American government, however, that her blockade is aimed solely at Chinese shipping and that American vessels would not be molested.

Officials here felt that, regardless which side was responsible for the attack, it brought one step closer the moment when President Roosevelt must take some action on invocation of the Neutrality Act.

Debates Special Session Plan.

The president is debating the idea of calling a special session of congress in November and making a modified speaking swing across the country starting late next month.

He started the new week at his Hudson Valley home with several important bills still on his desk. Of most political interest was the sugar quota measure. Some sources believe he will veto it, in view of the opposition of four cabinet officers and the governors of Hawaii and Porto Rico.

Whatever his action is, observers hoped for a key to possibility of a special session.

The Wagner low cost housing and slum clearance bill and the act calling for an unemployment census through voluntary registration were also still pending. Favorable action was expected on both.

War as a solution for international controversies is condemned, and the principles of the Kellogg anti-war pact are reaffirmed. The Sino-Russian pact is to remain in effect for five years, and will be automatically renewed for another two at each expiration unless one party serves six months' notice.

Japan proved frankly suspicious, pointing out that there never had been any aggression between China and the Soviets, so the pact must be directly aimed at Nippon.

If there be secret military clauses, the Japanese believe, they do not call for direct support on the battlefield, but promise military supplies for the Chinese.

Japan authorities admitted that the pact is a death blow to Tokyo's hopes of establishing a Sino-Japanese front against Communism.

Hungarian Club Application Heard

No Action Has Been Taken By Club Toward Applying For Beer License

Hearing was held before Judge W. Walter Braham at the Lawrence county court house this morning on an application of the Hungarian American club for a charter. The incorporators are Nicholas Wheale, Andy Tomasko, John Mocko, Frank Herjecki and John Sako.

Members of the club testified that it is being formed for the purpose of social enjoyment and the education of its members, particularly on the customs and traditions of the Hungarian people. It is the purpose of the club to have a reading room.

The witnesses denied that it is what is known as a one man's club. Asked if it was proposed to apply for a beer license, they said that the matter had been discussed, but that no definite action had been taken. It would require a vote of the club it was stated, to determine on future policy. The witnesses also claimed that there would be no gambling. Judge Braham took the papers in the case and will hand down a decision later.

COLLECT METER FUNDS

Officers Ray Richards and Sigler today collected the money boxes from the parking meters in different sections. The money was delivered to the city treasurer for counting.

FAITH
Another great man has passed on. Our nation and the world in general has lost a great benefactor in the death of Andrew W. Mellon. If we could have had a few men at the head of our government, in the last few years, like Andrew Mellon, there would be a different story to tell.
The benefits of his great wealth is not our greatest loss, it is the loss of that intelligent mind, which few men are blessed with. What a happy thing it would be if some of the people who persecuted him, could just inherit some of his intelligence. This would be worth more to the country today than all his millions.

TOURS AND BOMBS

HAVING assembled enough dollars with which to take a trip to foreign shores, Yankee travelers find themselves in a quandary—so much so that many of them have dropped plans for trips abroad and are confining themselves strictly to the North American continent.

Their problem is not without reason. To go to the East is almost out of the question, unless one has a desire to see a first-class war between the Chinese and the Japanese. Spain must be stricken from the list. It is no place in which to study the old churches and loll beneath the sun of Valencia, or sip a cool drink at a street cafe in Madrid. The Spanish sun is clouded with the smoke of cannon and the blood of humans, and the olive groves have been torn from their soil by bursting shells. Would you like to go to Majorca, that paradise for Americans in the Mediterranean? Then banish the thought, for it is a Spanish rebel stronghold. A trip through the Mediterranean? Not unless you want to take a chance on having the vessel torpedoed. In Poland and Rumania there are riots, there is trouble brewing in the Holy Land. Going further east, you will find a revolt in Syria against the French which is believed to have been inspired by Italian and Turkish intrigue. Would you like to visit the magic island of Madagascar? British troops have been suppressing labor riots in the sugar cane fields there and the situation is far from lovely.

If you go to South America, you might possibly run into a fair-sized revolution in any of the countries. India is by no means quiet, and there are occasional outbursts in Iraq and Arabia. You may visit Italy but you will not be permitted to criticize any Blackshirt activities, no matter to what extent these fellows annoy you. That is a privilege granted only to visitors who come to the United States. Germany will give you a warm welcome provided that you do not run into any of the Nazis.

Thus, it looks like the American will have to visit his own shores, and on second thought, what could be nicer than late summer in New England, or winter in Arizona? It wouldn't be a bad idea for us to get acquainted with our neighbors. After all, they are Americans, too.

BADGE OF LIBERALISM

Disgruntled critics who have been prone to censure the Supreme Court for alleged conservatism may well ponder a statement recently issued by Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes. It is as follows:

"Our first duty is to preserve the freedom of learning, of speech, of press, of assembly and of conscience, and to be alert to detect the slightest attempt to impair them. Our confidence will prove illusory if those who are foremost in the enjoyment of these privileges are not keenly conscious of their responsibility."

That is indeed a badge of liberalism, of the progressive spirit which has permeated the nation ever since its establishment.

For the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to be a man who not only recognizes the fundamentals of freedom but remains vigilant in their preservation is for America to have the assurance not only of justice but of liberty under law.

A GREAT FINANCIER

Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury under Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, was one of the nation's greatest financiers. With his passing at 82, it is doubtful if his like will be seen again.

Conditions today do not permit a boy to hope to become great in business or finance. If he should make money rapidly, the politicians would take it from him in taxes. And there are a myriad of other restrictions upon human initiative that were unknown when Mellon created his financial and industrial empire, estimated to employ today 100,000 men.

While the road to business success has been stymied by the politicians, no barriers have been erected to success in political demagoguery. Tell the people they are entitled to a monthly check from the government, and anyone who suggests they should work is a tax slacker and enemy of the people, and you become a great national hero. Such men, not industrial or financial geniuses, are the "successes" of the present.

In Chile an earth shock turned a statue completely around in a public square, keeping the sun out of the great man's eyes.

There is talk of congress returning to the capitol in October, scarcely giving the sweepers time to pick up the remains of the court enlargement scheme.

McNutt, of Manila, has been boomed for president in 1940 by several Indiana New Dealers. Aside from the fact that New Dealers certainly seem to be doing a lot of long range worrying about who is going to run in 1940, this is interesting because of its possibilities in developing a campaign toast. Would it be, "McNutt's to you?"

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

COLD SPRING HARBOR, N. Y. —Theodore Dreiser, well known writer, celebrates his 66th birthday and looks at China: "We seem to be going back to the jungle again."

MILWAUKEE—John L. Lewis, C. I. O. head, comments on possibility of third party composed of farmers and organized industrial workers: "Of course, political organization is the natural by-product of economic organization."

HOLLYWOOD — Leonard Field, movie producer, mourns the passing of another bit of "atmosphere" connected with the old Hollywood of silent pictures: "I regret to see the old Hollywood custom of naming and dedicating street benches (for tram waiters) for well known film people passing into oblivion. Slowly but surely the benches are being named for various firms."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

COMFORT IN CLOTHING

Many parents are growing sensible about the choice of play clothes for young children. These clothes permit the child freedom of activity, and in wearing them he does not have to look noticeably different from his playmates. Because play clothes are fairly well standardized nowadays, wise selection is not necessarily a matter of money.

Considerate parents let children share in the selection of their clothes. Here are important questions: Will the child like them? Are they made of suitable materials? Are they well made? Are they comfortable, fitting properly?

Why will some parents force a child to wear clothing he dislikes, especially when it is not a matter of cost? Why must so many children suffer just to suit a mother's whim?

We want to make sure that necks and armholes are so cut and tailored as not to bind, and are sufficiently roomy; that seats in underwear, bloomers and shorts are amply large. Some manufacturers are skimpy with materials and it is often discovered too late by the parent. Be sure the clothes are amply cut. Look for inverted pleats and darts. They generally improve the fit of the garment and afford adequate roominess.

Knitted suits of different weights are generally desirable for indoor and outdoor use, since they afford freedom of activity, are comfortable, and still snug, until they shrink too much.

Thanks to bigger and fewer buttons and to zippers, children's clothing nowadays promote self-help and independence. Woven elastic is also used in making many children's garments. When the openings are at the side or back they should be wide enough for the child to manage well. As a rule, front openings are best.

Fabrics Correct?

About the fabrics, let us ask in choosing them: Are they durable? Are they light of weight? Are they soft in texture? Will they wash easily? Let us try to get warmth without excessive weight and cumbersomeness.

Out-door garments for boys and girls should have adjustable hems, to allow for growth. Double-breasted ones give extra warmth, because of their overlapping.

Experts recommend the raglan or saddle sleeves with cuffs. Big armholes are easy to slip on. They give freedom to the shoulders, arms and body. Underneath them sweaters may be comfortably worn. Cuffs can be let out as the arms grow longer.

In comparison with inexpensive clothes on the market, home-made clothes at still less cost may have these advantages: ample cut, proper fasteners, long plackets, large buttons and roomy buttonholes, extra long waist-tail, raglan sleeves, deep hems, adjustable straps, comfortable but well-fitted waist lines, sleeve, neck and big bands.

If you want to read the best chapter ever written on this subject you will find it under the title, "Clothes Can Make or Break Comfort", in the volume on "Play" written by Rose H. Alshuler and Christine Heinig", one of the five edited by The Association for Childhood Education. And your Uncle Dudly was one of the editors, serving without pay.

All Of Us

WHAT'S A MERE MAN?

If you want to know, I'll tell you. I've been gathering evidence and I'm now an authority. I know what a Mere Man is! . . . I don't know very much, but at least I do know that.

A Mere Man is a husband or a brother or a son or a father who suggests that he knows something about a woman. Just let him intimate that he understands one particular woman better than some women do—and he wins the title at once. And along with the title he gets a leather medal studded with Superior Smiles and Condescending Looks and Gentle Sniffs.

A man can interfere in the kitchen, in the house, in the realm of women's clothes. He may boil eggs, make coffee, shake up the salad dressing, and get some credit for intelligence. He may hand out theories on What's Wrong With the Baby or What to Do With Jimmy When He Runs Away. He may even set himself up as a general authority on Women and will be accepted, in a measure.

But that's his limit. He's not supposed to know what women really think. They decided long ago that the cleverest of men is a child in the hands of a designing woman. Look at Samson and Delilah; look at Paris and Helen of Troy; look at Marc Antony and Cleopatra. The men also decided long ago that Sampson and Paris and Marc were stupid lads who didn't know much; but the women look upon them as Mere Men, and as examples of how any moderately shrewd woman can twist a man around her finger.

It seems to make some difference to women whether men like or dislike a certain woman, if they think Miss Jane is a sweet little girl, and Mrs. Jones a fine woman—but that doesn't really prove that the men know that, and if a man INSISTS that he knows, "Isn't that just like a man?" or "How could a mere man know that?"

Men have been battering against that fortress for countless centuries. They have been liking women, loving them, hating them, thinking about them since the beginning of the race, and they think they know something about women. But no woman will agree. The wisest man on earth, when he dares to give an opinion about a woman, becomes a Mere Man. He can pound and roar and bluster, but he's still a mere man and all he says is sound and fury signifying only his ignorance.

LOOK PLEASANT

We cannot, of course, all be handsome,
And it's hard for us all to be good;
We are sure now and then to be lonesome,
And we don't always do as we should.

To be patient is not always easy,
To be cheerful is much harder still,
But at least we can always be pleasant,
If we make up our minds that we will.

And it pays every time to be kindly,
Although we feel worried and blue;
If you smile at the world and look cheerful,
The world will soon smile back at you.

So try and brace up and look pleasant,
No matter how low you are down;
Good humor is always contagious,
But you banish your friends when you frown.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Should a girl of 18 rise when introduced to a man or woman much older?—Uncertain Deb.

Answer—A young girl may rise to greet an elderly man, although it is not obligatory. But a woman seldom, if ever, does, no matter how elderly or distinguished he may be, unless he be a Cardinal or President of the United States or a ruling sovereign.

Both men and women rise out of respect to the office of those dignitaries.

A young woman should rise when introduced to another woman much older than she. Of course, if the difference in age is not noticeable, it is far better to remain seated than to run the risk of offending the older woman. And please remember that a girl of 20 should not consider a woman of 40 or 45 so dottering that she should be given this courtesy due to age. If so treated, she will probably be your enemy for life!

Idealists And Business Clash.
Age Old Struggle Still Continues.
Economic War Goes On In World.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

RALPH WALDO EMERSON wrote: "The solid men complain that the idealist leaves out the fundamental facts; the poet complains that the solid men leave out the sky. To every plant there are two powers: one shoots down as rootlet, and one upward as tree."

The same applies today. The same fight, the same contest is manifest in every action in New Deal vs. Business. One reads it in a thousand manifestoes.

Business is demanding that government be "practical," balance the budget, refuse to give bounties to the farmers, refuse to peg crop prices, refuse to buy surplus crops, refuse to pass a wage and hour bill. But what administration could remain in power if it did not heed the desires of the mass of voters?

On the business side, the New York Sun financial column remarks: "Cotton futures are selling below 10 cents a pound, but the government is not afraid of losing any money—other people's money. It is preparing to make 9-cent cotton loans with a bonus of 3 cents a pound on the rather silly excuse that those cotton planters who take the bonus will agree to abide by crop restrictions that might, possibly, some time, be contained in some new law. The government might give the cotton planters some treasury bonds, bought to peg the market in lieu of a cash bonus."

This comes from a paper which a week or two previously was praising Senator Ellison D. ("Cotton Ed") Smith of South Carolina, Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina and other conservative southern solons who opposed the president's court plan and who fought the wage and hour bill.

Suppose Senators Smith and Byrnes did not work for a cotton bonus. Would they be returned to the senate? The "foolishness" in this instance is a very practical matter in the home fields.

And suppose President Roosevelt did not demand crop restrictions? Would the market not crash to panic lows?

PROBLEM STILL UNSOLVED

The administration, poetically striving for the sky, to carry forth the Emerson simile, perhaps does need the rootlet of business to hold it in place. But business, too, needs a tree reaching to the sky.

The world economic problem still is unsolved. And it is tied up with the social problem to such a degree that (the administration believes) it cannot be solved until the social readjustment is made first. But social justice is endangered by the measures of economic expediency that nations adopted when they were faced by the 1929-'33 economic disaster. The "solutions" reached then now hamper either social or economic adjustments. They fail to meet the needs of industry, workers and farmers alike.

The New York Times illustrates (perhaps unknowingly) a case in point:

"For the first time since 1933, all contracts on the New York Cotton exchange declined . . . below the 10-cent level. October contracts sold at a low price of 9.56 cents, which, on the basis of the OLD gold dollar, was equivalent to 5.66 cents a pound."

There is the rub. The capitals are ours.

The Times continues:

"The lowest level at which cotton ever sold on the New York exchange was in June, 1932, when the prices declined to 5 cents. . . . The average price for that season's crop, however, was 6.34 cents, which is equivalent to 10.73 cents a pound on the present gold basis."

FICTIONAL VALUE

Thus, on our old gold basis, the cotton planter actually is getting less for his cotton now than in the midst of the depression.

Why? Devaulation? Well, without devaulation the country would have been bled white. But we must understand that devaluation is not a remedy; it is a hypodermic, to save a patient's life. Its effect wears off—and stimulation ceases.

But pegging the price will not sell more cotton. It will sell. The government, as it is, buys too much. The overhang of the surplus it has in storage will cost the government (the people) millions—and eventually will depress the price anyway.

ECONOMIC WAR EVEN NOW

The real trouble lies in the fact

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

IS THE HONEYMOON OVER?

Every president, according to American political tradition, is given a "congressional honeymoon" —that is, for a certain period of time, long or short, as the case may be, his suggestions to and requests of congress are received with almost unanimous appeal and are enacted into law. He is faced by no major defections from his party ranks, and his floor leaders need give but little effort to keeping "the boys in line."

In our recent history, the shortest honeymoon was that of President Hoover, who had to deal with a hostile congress within two years after his election—a circumstance that had much to do with his crushing defeat when he ran for re-election.

Longest honeymoon has been that of the present President. For four years, every major policy he advocated was approved with a minimum of debate. He received no setbacks from congress. In such matters as disbursement of government money, he was given almost a free hand. He had bills written by his advisors, sent them to Congress and saw them made into law within a few days. Never was the authority of the executive so broadened.

To say that this honeymoon is now over is simply to state an obvious fact, apparent to both the friends and opponents of the New Deal. Cause of the split was the Court bill. Ultimate effects of the split are today the subject for guessing, forecasting and editorializing by everyone in the country who takes an interest in policies.

The death of Senator Robinson—who, through his great personal popularity, ability and mastery of the complicated parliamentary technique, was able to keep the Senate

JANET CHATS WITH A MERCHANT

There is a man who runs a shop
Where Janet and her mother stop.
The merchant there has gowns to sell,
And now the simple truth to tell
So often do they visit there
He's grown to know my lovely pair.

The time has come, I grieve to own
When Janet shopping goes alone,
And with an independent mind
Sets out to seek what she may find.
For many times has mother said:
"I'm tired! Suppose you go instead."

One day the merchant (curse his wiles)
Met Janet roaming through the aisles.
And bowed and scraped as merchants do
Who seek their patrons' trade to woo.
Then said, because he had to speak,
"I saw your mother here last week."

I'll say for Janet, spoken to,
She knows the proper thing to do;
She may not get the answer right,
But she will always be polite.
"You did! That's nice of you to tell!"
Said Janet. "Was she looking well?"

TODAY Is The Day

MONDAY AUG 30.

Once Upon August 30th—Three hundred years ago today, Anne Hutchinson, the first woman preacher in America, was called before the ecclesiastical synod at Newton Mass., which after a hearing banished her from Massachusetts Bay colony for hersey and sedition.

Anna was a minister's daughter! Born a Marbury in England, she married William Hutchinson at 22, bore him 15 children. She followed with these and her husband, when her great admiration, Rev. John Cotton, was driven out of England to Massachusetts Bay Colony.

At the time, women had no voice in religious discussions. They did not attend the weekly prayer meetings at which the men reviewed the previous Sabbath's sermon. Mrs. Hutchinson instituted similar gatherings for women and became the leader of them.

Men viewed these meetings with distaste; this was carrying women's rights too far. They acted when she abused ministers and magistrates as "mere legalists" and announced she was as qualified to perach as any man, except possibly John Cotton.

Seventy-six citizens who signed a protest against the proceedings against her were publicly disarmed, as enemies of law and order.

Exiled, she and her 15 children bought Aquidneck island from the Narragansett Amerindians for 40 fathoms of wampum, and she became one of the founders of Rhode Island. A year later, Amerindians killed her and most of her children.

Another notable contribultor to the cause of women's rights was born on Aug. 30, in 1797—Mary Wollstonecraft Godwin, the younger.

When 21, she was living unwed in Switzerland with poet Percy Bysshe Shelley, it was proposed at a gathering of literary notables that each write a romance of tale dealing with the supernatural. All did, and the novel of Mary, the least experienced among them as a writer, was best! You know it as Frankenstein, the world's most famous horror story.

It is not too famous, however, for

Most Limestone And Other Natural Stone Is Quarried In Pennsylvania

HAD VALUE OF OVER $17,000,000

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 30—Pennsylvania led the nation in the amount of limestone, sandstone and other natural stones sold or used by producers last year, according to a servey by the United States Bureau of Mines

Such stone used or sold by producers in the Keystone State totaled 15,814,260 short tons. This represented almost one-eighth of the national total. The state most closely approaching the Pennsylvania record was California with 12,826,370 short tons.

The value of the Pennsylvania stone was placed at $17,900,502. California also ranked second in this respect with a value of $10,163,893. Such stone sold or used in the country as a whole was valued at $141,-103,979.

Limestone, most important of natural stones in the New Castle area, was sold or used by producers to the amount of 801,710 short tons in 1936. This was valued at $4,882,-184. These levels represented gains of 10.9 per cent in quality and 61.6 per cent in value over 1935.

Take Measures Against Ship's Doctor For Allowing 993 Passengers To Land

running like a well-oiled administration machine for four years—was a serious blow to the President. But the seeds of discontent have been brewing for a long time. Even had Mr. Robinson secured the passage of the Court bill, which is extremely doubtful, the breach between congress and the White House would inevitably widened. Faced with no effective Republican opposition, the overwhelming Democratic majority has been gradually breaking into a number of opposed, restive factions.

The upshot of this, as the Washington columnists have been writing, is clear. The Court bill—perhaps the most important piece of legislation proposed by the administration—is definitely dead. There will be no increase in the Supreme Court membership, no proctor, and no increase in the membership of the lower Federal Courts, unless a definite need for Judges is shown. It is probable that a bill will be offered whereby the progress of cases involving constitutional questions from District Courts to the Supreme Court, will be expedited, and the Attorney General will be empowered to appear in lower court cases when the constitutionality of a Federal law is questioned. These minor reforms have long been advocated by conservatives and liberals alike, and will not stir opposition.

Furthermore, the other "must" bills on the administration's five-point legislative program for this session are definitely in danger—the changes, say the experts, are against them passing.

These bills would fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry in interstate commerce; reorganize the government departments and bureaus; provide for low-cost housing; plug up loopholes in the tax laws, and set up a new farm plan, based on the "ever normal granary." Potent remark came recently from Representative Woodrum, a strong White House adherent, who said that if the administration insisted on passing an ambitious legislative program such as this, "congress will still be here when the frost is on the pumpkin." The revolt, in brief, has reached a highly advanced stage.

The effects of this on the country are gradually becoming clear. First, the chances are strongly against any additional "experimental legislation" on a wide scale. Second, the possibility of a split in the Democratic ranks, that will result in a new party, with the conservative Southern Democrats joining with the Republicans, becomes constantly greater. Third, the President's power and hold over congress is waning. Fourth, as recent surveys, such as that made by Fortune, indicate the New Deal is slipping in public esteem, even though Mr. Roosevelt, as a personality, still commands the admiration of millions of voters.

This is all true, wether congress adjourns tomorrow or next year. The attitude of the President, apparently, is that he will continue to insist on approval of his plans and will oppose, indirectly, the renomination of Democrats who are against him, such as Van Nuys and Wheeler. Not since the war has the political situation been so chaotic and so full of dynamite.

Ask Paving Of Logan Street

Council met at the city building this morning and heard read by the city clerk a petition which asked that Logan street between Park and Moody avenues be paved. The petition asked that the labor be provided by the WPA and the material be purchased by the city. The cost of the materials under this plan would be later assessed against the abutting properties. The petition was referred to committee.

The World At A Glance

that there still is an economic war. Nationalistic phobias still rage. Secretary of State Cordell Hull, himself a southerner, has done remarkably well in breaking down tariff and exchange barriers—but nations still are like maniacs.

Observe Japan now. Japan is the largest purchaser of American cotton. But, to finance its war in China, Japan again will devalue its currency. That will put Japanese goods on a still lower selling basis in a battle with other nations; but, as in Germany, as in Italy, purchasing power will become less and less. Japan will try to become "self-sufficient"—with the aid of conquered factories and resources in China.

But there is no such thing as economic self-sufficiency among nations. Economic "self-sufficiency" is nothing less than international economic war and privations and lower living standards at home.

Now that may seem a long way from cotton fields of the south and the cotton exchanges of the business world—but it isn't. The administration which poetically reaches to the sky for international economic democracy and domestic social justice may be the one to prevent another collapse in the financial world.

But how far should the cotton farmer be tided over? And is it safe to pour out millions in "loans" unless there are crop restrictions, at least, until the nations begin trading with one another again on a "peace" basis? President Roosevelt seems to be feeling for the answer.

U. S. Closes Port Of Shanghai To Merchant Ships

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The United States today officially closed the port of Shanghai to American merchant shipping.

The navy was ordered to press warships of the U. S. Asiatic squadron into service to evacuate Americans from the war-torn Chinese metropolis.

Acting swiftly in the wake of the bombing attack on the Dollar Liner President Hoover, in which seven sailors were wounded, two seriously, and the vessel's hull badly damaged by shrapnel, Secretary of State Hull penned a vigorous protest over the incident to the Chinese central government.

The decision to bar American passenger vessels and commercial shipping from Shanghai was taken, Hull said, in order to prevent any recurrence of incidents such as the Hoover bombing.

U. S. merchant vessels have been instructed not to go to Shanghai under present circumstances, Hull said.

Orders were flashed to Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic squadron, to use his warships for evacuating American refugees who had planned to leave on regular passenger ships.

Between 200 and 300 Americans were waiting to board the liner Hoover, which was attacked by the Chinese war planes before she reached the city. Refugees will be taken out of the danger zone on American naval vessels, Hull said.

SMOKE SCARE IS CAUSE OF ALARM

City firemen were called to 136 East Long avenue, at 10:05 p. m., Sunday, when nearby residents were aroused by smoke which came from the building. Investigation revealed the janitor was burning paper in the building, causing the furnace to smoke because of a poor draft. No action was taken by firemen.

Speed Signs Here Not Changed Yet

Twenty Mile Speed Limit Signs Become Obsolete On Wednesday

Motorists may legally drive 50 miles an hour in the state beginning Wednesday, the legislature at their last session having advanced the speed rate from 40 miles an hour.

In the city the speed limit has been 20 miles. The signs calling for no more than 20 miles are still up. The speed limit will not be increased here to more than 25 miles an hour.

The only reason this action will be taken is to conform with the state law because there has been considerable speeding here.

During the past several weeks police have arrested some speeders and are still trying to hab those who persist in driving so fast as to endanger others and also themselves

THOUSANDS of motorists are killed or injured—thousands of dollars are spent for repairs, doctor and hospital bills every year when blow-outs throw cars out of control.

Keep your name out of the accident columns. Many of the blow-outs you hear and read about altogether too often are due to the heat generated inside of tires by today's high-speed driving. This terrific heat may cause rubber and fabric to separate. And, if it does, an invisible blister forms. Bigger and BIGGER it grows until, sooner or later, BANG! You have a blow-out.

That's why Goodrich engineers invented the Life-Saver Golden Ply found only in Silvertown tires. This amazing Goodrich invention is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist internal tire heat. By resisting this heat the Golden Ply protects you against these dangerous high-speed blow-outs.

Engineers Have Annual Frolic

Hundred Or More Attend Event At Water Co. Pump Station

Over 100 members and friends of the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers' society passed Saturday afternoon and evening in the society's annual outdoor frolic at the Shenango river pump station of the New Castle Water Co. The Youngstown district sent the largest out-of-town delegation.

Three exciting boxing bouts and a variety of races helped keep the throng busy throughout the afternoon and an abundance of fish and corn satisfied the hungry appetites. The sports master of ceremonies was Charles Andrews and he ran events off in a capable manner. Prizes were given winners at the close by Numa F. Vidal, Jr.

The day's general chairman was J. L. Matthews, head of the water company here. His secretary and chief aide was Earl C. Ruby.

Engineers were joined by plant officials and other guests who came from points throughout the county. The Youngstown group joins with the local engineers on nearly every major social occasion.

Committee serving included: E. D. Hawk, Ray Davenport and Russell Melvin entertainment; Ben Rodenbaugh, Charles Andrews, Ed. Davenport and Wesley Davey, sports and Numa F. Vidal, Jr., prizes.

How Movie Chorines Pass Their Time During Rest Periods on the Set in Hollywood

She's doing hand-weaving.

Gossip is one of the most popular forms of relaxation.

Movie chorines pass their rest periods between appearances before the cameras in various ways, as shown here. In order to save expenses the girls usually live together in groups and share expenses on small, second-hand cars for transportation to the studios. The chorus girl's chance of becoming a star is one in a thousand. The average Hollywood dancing career usually lasts three to five years, after which the girls marry or go into some other occupation.

New York's Bald Try New Methods

Thin-haired Celebrities Seeking To Grow Hair On Pates This Summer

SHIRTS DAZZLE IN PHILIPPINES

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—Diary: Lay scandalously late and came a cutting about sunsets and an interesting not from Talullah's father, Congressman Bankhead. And an autographed book from a favorite literateur, William Saroyan, called "Little Children" and a note from Hattie Bell Johnston in Capetown.

O. O. McIntyre

So to breakfast al fresco at Chatham Walk with my wife' cousin Josephine and she away to the shore with a younger and handsomer fellow. Then to see great coat made of gazelle skin, very rakish. And home where Joe Bryan III stopped and he is leaving The City to live near Philadelphia.

To dinner with my lady at The Colony, and talked awhile to Conde Nast, the most youthful active and sprucest gentleman I know for for years, he having a daughter 32 and one 7. Afterward to a birthday party for Mary Brown Warburton and everybody there, so many I stayed but a moment disliking crowds so.

Growing hair on celebrity pates has been one of the diversions of the summer tedium. George Jean Nathan started it by confessing in print that some mixture saved his locks, and baldness was the outcome of laziness. Then Charles MacArthur bobbed up with a paean for some massaging device and before the shouting died Brock Pemberton was running around the Rialto removing his hat to show anybody who would look what some ancient berb formulae would do for a once deforestated scalp. Now everybody of importance with thinning hair is trying out one of the three panaceas and spending most of the time sneaking peeks in pocket mirrors.

There was a grizzled copy reader on the Evening Mail with a shock of white hair as luxurious as Lloyd George's. He had passed or was nearing 70 and told me that in his 30's while working in Europe for the Herald be began to lose his hair and in a few years had only a fringe an enormous open space. He did nothing about it until 50; then because of chronic headaches began to massage his scalp vigorously twice a day. In a year he still had the headaches but a new crop of hair.

Personal nomination for the most entertaining of the screen's "wonder kiddies"—Bobbie Breen.

Roy Howard is credited with inoculating Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippines with an itch for dazzling shirts. Quezon had passed 50 without showing predilections for anything in shirts save snow white. Then Howard visited the Philippines several times and became a friend and palace guest of Quezon. The Filipino took a gander at Howard's astonishing creations with collars to match and went sartorially beserk. When he came to New York on his way to the coronation early this summer he insisted that Howard take him around to his shirt makers, Sam and Bill McCrory. Howard did and Quezon let himself go—buying more than 200 shirts, 500 ties and 100 sets of pajamas. It was about the biggest single order since Michael Arlen came to America in the first flush of his literary fame and increased the Sulka dividends.

An unusual eating place down town in India House on Hanover Square, a private club patronized mostly by prosperous importers and exporters and other captains of industry—men who have bargained all over the world. It is mellow with antiquity and although there are three floors, no elevators. The walls are lined with prints of ancient sailing vessels and contracts drawn up between the white traders and the blacks in far away jungles.

Bagatelles: Patsy Kelly, goes to the movies almost every night. Ben Ames Williams is the most popular fiction writer among court judges and lawyers. . . . Paul Gallico, who quit writing sports two years ago to write fiction, recently appeared in seven magazines in one month. . . . Bob Davis and his wife Madge are on their sixth trip around the world . . . . The Duchess of Windsor's favorite American novelist is Ellen Glasgow.

Symbology stuff: He swung from a moving bus at 49th street along the avenue, skittered into a running fall to his knees, got up grinning and moved off whistling and we wondered if there was not a lesson there for the world. Or something.

Because 'our messengers are such young boys," kisses by telegraph are going to stop, according to Mrs. Katherine Bleecher Meigs, director of one telegraph company's personal service bureau. The last telegraph kiss, sent by a New Yorker to his lady friend in Atlantic City, was delivered last week by James McGuigan, 17-year-old messenger boy who consented to carry the message only "for the honor of the service." He received a dime tip from the surprised recipient of the kiss.

Moose with an ear for music were reported in the Tweedsmiur Park area by Tom McKinley, a northern trapper, when at Osta Lake, B. C., the other day. Each evening toward dusk the huge animals surrounded his cabin and stood listening to the music over his portable radio, he said.

Ill luck trails the manual arts teachers in Allegheny and Kiski Valley schools, according to the Valley Daily News of Tarentum. The third teacher to suffer serious injury to a hand is O. M. Martens of Apollo high, who lost the ends of all four fingers on his right hand in a shop accident. Other teachers injured were H. L. Bishop and P. D. Johnston.

A few customers in a lunch-room at Whitman, Mass., began to choke violently when William Blight, 62, walked in. One of the diners ejaculated: "Holy smoke, we buried you three weeks ago!" "Guess it must have been two other fellows," Blight retored, "nobody's buried me." Whitman police started an investigation to determine the real identity of the man who was buried after Arthur Burman, a farmer, had identified him as his farmhand, William Blight. The body had been found in the weeds.

Flames of the burning filling station crackled and danced at Pollocksville, N. C. From within came the raucous strains of a mechanical piano, grinding out tune after tune. The fire had done something to the mechanism to set the piano playing without benefit of nickles. Just as the roof collapsed came the strains of "I'll Be Glad When You're Dead, You Rascal, You." And then the piano "died."

Re-enactment by hilarious cowboys of a chapter from the Old West proved so realistic last week at a party of tourists near Los Angeles, for whose benefit the performance was staged, spread the word that four men had been killed in a cattle rustlers' raid. One of the gunmen, whose six-guns were loaded with blank cartridges, scotched the reports after peace officers for miles on each side of the Southern California-Nevada border had sought vainly for their source. The tourists fled and spread the alarm, which resolved itself into a report that four of a band of cattle rustlers had been killed in a raid upon the ranch of Rex Bell.

New Office Quarters For Geneva College

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Aug. 30.—A force of workmen are busy at Geneva college these days erecting a new and much needed suite of offices for the college administrative force. For a number of years past the administrative officers, although two or three times the number of those of former years, have been getting on in the same office space that the officers of a generation ago had at their command. Now that the student body, teaching administrative force and detailed office work have so greatly increased to meet the ever-increasing demands upon the college, it has become necessary to erect additional administrative offices. So the college board of trustees decided a year and more since and appointed a committee consisting of the Rev. D. Bruce Martin, R. L. Kenah and William Guy Lambert to see to their erection as soon as enough money could be raised for the purpose by the executive secretary of the college.

When the secretary reported that three-fourths of the $3,500 or thereabouts necessary to complete the job was in sight the contract was let to the well-known contractor, H. R. Finney of the Beaver Valley, who began the work immediately following the close of the summer school and is rushing it to completion before the opening of the fall semester the 14th of next month. The space used for the new offices is that which the library occupied prior to the erection of the new McCartney library—the two large rooms at the north end of the first floor of Old Main, together with the north half of the hall from the south entrance as a foyer or reception room. Ample working space for typists and others handling the literature of the institution is provided for between the two suites of offices on the east and west wings of the north projection of Old Main.

The present offices are to be left intact, for the present at least, in the hope that all administrative officers can henceforth be concentrated into the one building.

The architect employed in the erection of these offices is Jesse E. Martsolf of Beaver Falls.

Nine Women Given Parole By Court

Petitions For Release Set Forth They Desire To Lead The Better Life

From a gloomy prison cell to the sunlight of a glorious August morning, stepped nine young women at the Lawrence county court house Saturday morning. They were neatly dressed and cheerful, their faces radiant with the consciousness that they were going out into a different world than they had known.

No more the primrose path, the sordid highway of sin and shame, but a straight and narrow road to the goal of their ideals, the better life. This ambition they had set forth in their petition for parole from the Allegheny county workhouse, where they had been sentenced for infractions of the moral law. Their desires for the better life were made known in a touching and brilliant appeal presented to the court by their attorney, Edwin K. Logan.

File In

In the little cavalcade which filed into the court room from the county jail were Sadie De Huff, Ruth Dolan, Hazel Walker, Evelyn Trent, Mary Gilkey, Susie Monico, Josephine Dougall, Grace Minor, alias Maloney, and Rhoda Carr. They were chaperoned by Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, and took their seats in chairs to the right of the bench.

Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham turned toward the young women. Judge Chambers spoke. He said: "As indicated when we passed sentence, we would entertain a petition for parole within a reasonable time, provided your conduct has been good. We understand that has been the case, so we are going to place you on probation. You are to report regularly to the parole officer, and if you are again found guilty of the practices which you have been pursuing, no leniency will be shown you."

The young women then signed their paroles, and were given cards showing that they are on parole. They must report to Parole Officer, Jack M. Dunlap regularly.

One of the conditions under which they were paroled, was that they pay the costs, amounting to about $40 each. All except one had the money with which to pay. It looked as though this one must go back to jail, but the spirit of sisterly love blossomed in this seeming garden of despair, and a collection was taken among the remaining eight. The result was that enough money was contributed to pay the fine, and all nine walked from the court room.

THE OTHER WOMAN LIVES JUST AROUND THE CORNER

It may seem unreasonable, but most men cannot understand why a woman who is usually happy and loving should have recurring periods when her whole character seems changed. He cannot appreciate the distress, the discomfort that all women must endure. He does not know what it is to do housework with an aching back and failing energy. All he does know is that other women seem more cheerful by comparison.

Are you such a three-quarter wife?

Don't let the ordeals that all women face cause you avoidable discomfort or endanger your home. Do as so many wise women have—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Relief List In Mercer County Now Increased

Mine Closing Results In Large Number Of Relief Applications

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 30.—The net decrease in the relief case load carried in Mercer by the state department of the Public Assistance which has been reported weekly for the past two months will be replaced this week by a net increase, Mrs. Blanche Sigler, county relief director, said today.

Closing the coal mines in the eastern section of the county and slackened working schedules in the county industrial plants has been responsible for a marked increase in the number of applications for relief received this week, Mrs. Sigler said.

In Grove City following the closing of the No. 5 Mine, about 300 persons crowded the borough building to make applications for the relief grants for support until they again secure employment.

Reduction of the number of cases in the county as a result of special investigation of single individual cases is completed, Mrs. Sigler said. Further decrease of the case load by removal of ineligibles is not probable, Mrs. Sigler said.

During the period from June 21 to August 14, 380 persons in the county made application for relief. Of the total number of applications received, 68 per cent were rejected at time of application. Twenty-two per cent of the remaining total were rejected after investigation by visitors.

MELLON BENEFACTION RANKS WITH GREATEST

Exact Amount Of Gift Unknown

Huge Fortune Of Late A. W. Mellon Is Given For Charity And Education

WILL CUT DOWN AMOUNT OF TAX

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30—All that remained at death of the great fortunte the late Andrew W. Melon built up during his lifetime was willed by him to charity and education, but no one today apparently could accurately estimate its extent.

That it would take its place with that of the greatest single benefactions ever made was confidently predicted, but just how much it would amount to was largely a matter of conjecture.

"Over $100,000,000" still remained today the best possible estimate with other estimates ranging as high as $500,000,000.

Value Fluctuates

Mellon's private secretary, who was probably more familiar with the vast estate than any other living man, pointed out that the value of the estate fluctuated from day to day with the rise and fall in the stock market of stocks and bonds making up the estate.

Conjecture regarding the amount that would go to the state and nation in taxes was more certain. It was pointed out that if Melon had bequeathed his fortune to his family that state and nation would have received approximately 70 per cent Of a $100,00,000 estate approximately $70,000,000 would then have gone to the state and federal government.

A spokesman for the treasury department said, however, that if the entire amount is spent in genuine charitable pursuits no federal tax would be levied. A flat 10 per cent tax is levied by the state, however, on all monies left by a person after death.

Expect About $12,000,000

On a $100,000,000 estate the state would then receive $10,000,000. About $12,000,000 is expected soon by the state from the estate of Mellon's brother, R. B. Mellon, who died a few years ago.

The announcement of the huge bequest was made by Mellon's attorney a few hours after his funeral. In a brief, terse statement Johnson stated all of Mellon's estate with the exception of $180,000, which he willed to personal employes, "will go to the use of charitable and educational purposes."

"The "A. W. Mellon educational and charitable trust, created in December, 1930, is the organization to which the residue of the estate has been left" read the statement, continuing:

"The deed creating this trust provides that its funds shall be applied exclusively to religious, charitable and educational purposes. It has already distributed many millions of dollars during its existence.'" It was estimated that Mellon's benefactions during his lifetime totaled $100,000,000.

"In explanation of his reason for making no bequests to his children," Johnson's statement read, "Mr. Mellon stated that they had already been adequately provided for."

Approximately $250,000,000, it was estimated, was set aside by Mellon for his two children, Paul Mellon and Ailsa Mellon Bruce, before his death. This fortune was placed in the Coalesced Company, a family holding concern owned jointly by the two.

AROUND CITY HALL

Employes of the WPA who are paving Albert street will lay the top coat north o. Fairmont avenue today. Meanwhile construction of a sewer is proceeding south of Fairmont avenue.

Highland avenue hill was littered with large chunks of coal this morning which fell from a truck. The coal should have been gathered up owing to the likelihood of auto tires picking up the coal and hurling them against properties or pedestrians.

It is probable that Mayor Charles E. McGrath will ask council some time this week to appoint another policeman temporarily to the police department. The mayor proposes to use the motorcycle on two turns which will require two officers.

Pavilion Services Attracting Crowds

Large Audiences At Services At East New Castle Sunday; Bob Ingersoll Speaker

On a perfectly beautiful summer Sunday, hundreds of people, many of whom motored 30 miles or more, attended the three services held at Calvary Gospel tabernacle, East New Castle, yesterday. The evening services were the largest, with a capacity crowd.

The speaker of the day was the well known evangelist, Bob Ingersoll of Saginaw, Mich., formerly superintendent of the famous Pacific Garden Mission, in Chicago, the spiritual birthplace of Mel Trotter and the late Billy Sunday.

His fine messages were inspiring, helpful, challenging and effective. Those assisting with the musical part of the services were members of the orchestra, friends from Betheseda, O., and Sharon, Pa.

The friend who provided money for the construction of the summer pavilion was present, and after the evening service, volunteered to assist in any necessary improvement upon, or addition to the tabernacle, evidently satisfied that the venture has been successful.

Mr. Ingersoll will speak nightly at 7:30, except Saturday, through this week. He will close with three services next Sunday, September 5.

Tax Deadline Is Moved To November

County Commissioners Pass Resolution Remitting Penalty On 1937 Taxes

County commissioners on Saturday passed a resolution extending to Nov. 1, the time during which citizens can pay their county taxes and avoid the penalty of five per cent.

Ordinarily the time would have expired on September 1, when the duplicates would have been placed in the hands of the collectors.

As a recent act of assembly gives until November 1 for the payment of delinquent taxes, less penalties and interest, the county commissioners, believed that it would be a great help to those who have so far been unable to pay their taxes this year, to have the time extended.

Accordingly County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland, is empowered to accept taxes, less penalties to November 1. This concession, granted by the county commissioners, will likely result in getting considerable extra money into the treasury, before the time limit expires.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 30.—A second life was claimed Saturday by the "magic carpet" ponderous movie effect which killed a studio worker and injured three others when it crashed.

The new victim was Harry Harsha, who died of his injuries.

Hospital attaches reported condition of the remaining survivors, J. D. Bowman and Nick De Grenner, as "only fair" today.

Phil Goodfriend, commodore of the Santa Monica Yacht club, was killed.

The workmen were crushed Saturday when a cable broke and the 1,500-pound "carpet" of wood and steel fell on them from a height of 20 feet at the Twentieth Century-Fox Sudio.

They were "dressing" the set. Eddie Cantor and other members of the cast of "Ali Baba Goes To Town" were not present.

Farr And Louis Battle Tonight

Yankee Stadium Will Be Scene Of Championship Heavyweight Battle

WEATHER FORECAST AGAIN 'THREATENING'

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—Once again the big battle of the brown bomber versus the blond boomer, bloomer or blather, as the case may be, is to come up for settlement at the Yankee stadium tonight with Joe Louis and Tommy Farr being scheduled to take a re-play on their prize fight for the world's heavyweight championship. Louis is the high-brown colored man from Detroit and Chicago, who is champion of all the races. Mr. Farr is the party from Tonypandy, Wales, who has been been booming defiance at everybody, via the windpipe.

The betting odds say that that's approximately what he'll wind up upon this evening. At the same time, the weather forecast, namely, "threatening", says once again that maybe there will be no fight at all.

15-Round Bout.

In case there is, the distance officially will be 15 rounds, the crowd will be 35,000, the gate probably $325,000 and the floor probably hard. Two to one is saying that Farr won't finish, except in the seemingly ordained posture. Four to one says he won't win.

These are shorter odds than they were quoting back there on Thursday, the original date of the fight. But, for some reason or perhaps none, they're beginning to like Farr around here. Not quite as well as he likes himself, of course—but perhaps a little.

Perhaps it is that people are beginning to like Louis somewhat less. He had been 7-1 with no takers, but his weight went off after the postponement and there was a feeling of slight alarm that he might have become too good too soon, namely for the originally appointed time of the fight. Anyhow, he was 198 pounds for Thursday's weighing in and did only 196½ on Saturday. Farr, meantime, has come down from an abnormal 207 four days ago to about 204. His cut eye has healed. So have his lacerated feelings over the Abe Feldman incident. He, therefore, is ready—for what?

Will Be Fight.

To some, including the writer, it will be to make a better fight than many seem to think. He weaves with his body and messes around with his hands; whereas, Louis' record clearly shows that he likes the stand-up-fighter type.

But he also likes any type that can't demolish him with a punch and Farr certainly is no bolt from the blue, this fact, I should say, giving him very little chance. To beat Louis, you've got to hurt him and all I'd like to add in this connection is that Farr positively can't do it with a weave—and a glower.

He'll probably be in there trying to do it with a glower again today at the commission offices when they re-weigh for tonight, with Louis expected to come in at 197½ and Farr around 204. Once that's over, the rest of it will be on the knees of the gods again and, in case you think that gods have no knees, let's call it square by saying that Mr. Thomas Farr has.

CAPITOLAS VS. ELKS

The Capitolas of the county league will play the Colored Elks of the city league tonight, it was announced. The game will start at 5:45 o'clock. Manager Mitchell of the Caps will probably start 'Shorty' Thornton on the knoll. Kneram is also a possible starting hurler. Homer Gray will go for the Elks.

Goodman Wins Amateur Title

Former National Champ Wins From Ray Billows In Finals At Portland, Ore.

By DARSIE L. DARSIE
International News Service Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—The national amateur championship at Portland, Ore., having been concluded Saturday in sensational fashion, with Johnny Goodman of Omaha, defeating Ray Billows, 2 up, in a 36-hole match, the sports picture now swings to the western amateur championship starting here tomorrow.

Most of the crack amateurs who teed off in the title play at Portland are now in Southern California getting final practice over the north course of Los Angeles Country club.

Fischer Dethroned

One group included the defeated national titleholder, Johnny Fischer, of Cincinnati; Gus Moreland, Francis Ouimet and Chick Evans. Others include the defending titleholder, Paul Leslie, of Louisiana State, who is here on his honeymoon; Fred Haas, the national intercollegiate champion; Chick Harbert of Battle Creek; Charley Kocsis of Detroit, and scores of others who made golf history last week at Alderwood.

Among those to be watched is Roger Kelly, who won qualifying honors in the national and then was defeated in the first round. This is Kelly's home course and recently scored a 66.

Finals of the national amateur championship at Portland found Goodman playing par for the first 18 holes to round the turn two up on Billows. The latter playing erratic but spectacular golf threatened Goodman throughout the first 18 but seemed unable to get in front.

SOUTH SIDE MERCHANTS

The South Side Merchants softball team is asked to be at Dean park field at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday fo. a very important game with the Saks Jrs. The second half title will probably be at stake.

CUBS ARE NOT SO SURE OF FLAG

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The rocky road to Dublin is a smooth oiled boulevard compared to the bedeviled highway the Cubs are taking on their current jaunt through the east.

The Cubs started out jauntily with the pennant apparently safe in the bag. But they have been rudely jolted hither and yon along the road and today are clinging to their precious lead by only two points and with the rejuvenated Giants pounding along neck and neck.

Glad To Get Home

The Cubs will be glad to get home to the smooth sailing they usually find along the Boul' Mich' and where they can throw a few monkey wrenches into the Giants' machine.

The Giants brought themselves up to a virtual tie for the lead yesterday by knocking off the Reds, 7-2, while the Cubs were splitting a pair with the Phils.

The Phils took the opener for their sixth straight, 10-3, at the expense of Bill Lee whom they climbed aboard for 14 hits including two homers by Klein and one each by Browne and Norris. The Cubs won the nightcap, 2 to 1. DeMaree's homer accounted for both runs and the lone Philly marker was due to another homer by Norris. French held the Phils to six hits while the Cubs made but five off Lamaster and Passeau.

The Dodgers vacated the league cellar in favor of the Reds by taking two from the bedraggled Pirates, 5-3 and 6-3. Hoyt outpitched Lucas in the first one and Hamlin repeated against Tobin in the second.

Turner Wins

Big Jim Turner rang up his 15th victory when the Bees came from behind to score twice in the ninth for a 3-2 decision over the Cards in the first game but the Cards came back to take the second, 3 to 0.

A single by catcher Ray Mueller of the Bees was all that stood between Ray Harrell and a spot in baseball's no-hit hall of fame in the second game. Mueller drove the ball to left field for the only hit off the young Card pitcher.

In the American league, the Yanks increased their lead to 12½ games by knocking off the Tigers 7 to 4 before a capacity crowd of 41,000 who saw Red Ruffing register his 17th victory, and saw Lou Gehrig hit his 3th home run and Hank Greenberg, his 28th.

The A's who usually are lucky to score a dozen runs in a week, set a new league record when they scored twelve runs in the first inning of the first game against the White Sox. Bob Johnson, who hit his 17th and 18th homers in this game, also set a record for runs batted in in one inning when he drove six across in the big frame, his first homer with the bases full accounting for four of the runs.

Browns-Senators Split

The A's then went on to win the game, 16 to 0, as George Caster held the Sox to five hits. Whitehead outpitched Kelley as the Sox evened the day by taking the nightcap, 5-3.

Buck Newsom let the Browns down with four hits as the Red Sox won the first game, 2-0, but the Browns came back to take the second, 8-3, on 17 hits off McKain. Walberg and Gonzales. Jimmy Foxx's 32nd homer was one of the eight Red Sox hits made off Jack Knott.

The Senators and Indians also split a pair, the Indians taking the first, 11-4, to give Johnny Allen his eighth victory without a defeat and dropping the second, 6-2, when Chase held the Indians to five hits and the Senators put the skids under young Bob Feller.

RUSSOS TO PLAY

The Russos will play the Marcellas of the American league tonight at 5:30 o'clock at the Dean Park field. Tuesday the Russos will play the Cyclones and Wednesday the Dewey A. C. All players are asked to report promptly. The Russos will play the winners of the Hoods-Millers game next week.

Changes In Football Rules For Schools To Be Emphasized

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug 30.— The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, governing body of schoolboy athletic activities in the state, today opens "gridiron courses" designed to familarize those concerned with the newly-adopted national federation of interscholastic football rules.

The P. I. A. A., which had previously been governed by collegiate rules, has adopted the national federation regulations for the first time for the 1937-38 season. A number of marked changes are noted in the two sets of regulations and the national federation rules, it was indicated, are designed to inject a further measure of safety to players in the gridiron sport.

Coincident with the instructions conference which opens this evening in the forum of the state education building here, a round-table conference of all P. I. A. A. officials will be held here.

Edmund C. Wicht, secretary of the P. I. A. A., announced that eight similar regional conferences will be held throughout the state to outline the federation rules. He urged that superintendents, principals, faculty managers, coaches and the general public attend.

In the west-central area, officials of the P. I. A. A., will meet at Altoona tomorrow. The illustrative clinic will be held at Mansion Park Athletic Field there late in the afternoon.

Dr. Frank Maguire, commissioner of officials of the P. I. A. A. will be in charge of the regional conferences, Wicht said.

The regional conferences dates and meeting places were:

Pittsburgh, September 1, Frick Training school; Erie, September 2, Y. M. C. A., gymnasuim; Williamsport, September 3, Senior High School auditorium; September 7, Upper Darby, Upper Darby high school; Scranton, September 8, Central High school auditorium; Allentown, September 15, Allentown high school gymnasium.

Major changes in the federation and collegiate rules affect field marking, equipment, substitutions, rules of enforcement, forward passes, kicks, out of bounds, right of return, fair catch, and length of periods.

Must Wear Headgear

Principal "safety" measure of the new regulations is the compulsory wearing of headgear. The federation rules provide penalty in the event a player does not wear a head protector. The collegiate rules made this optional.

Fifteen yard side zones are set up under the federation and a five yard protective area is provided around the entire field were space will permit. The collegiate rules set up a 10 yard side zone with no specific protective zone.

Quarters are cut from 15 minutes to 12 minutes with intermissions three minutes and 15 minutes.

Protection, under penalty, is afforded the passer of the ball the minute the ball leaves his hand. Under old rules it was not illegal to knock down the passer.

Other federation rules provide:

Any substitute may communicate with teammates after reporting; if a team is charged with excess time out it is allowed the two minutes; a substitute may start the fourth quarter or enter during that quarter, to be taken out and sent back once (this is designed to keep injured players out of the game); penalty for a foul in the scrimmage zone can not result in the ball being move more than half the distance to the goal line; distance for a disqualifying foul is 15 yards, enforcement is the same for any unnecessary roughness foul.

Forward Pass Rule

Forward passers may be at any point behind the line of scrimmage; penalty for a forward pass made beyond the line is five yards and loss of down from the spot of the pass, to apply even though the pass is incomplete in the end zone; distance penalty for a pass not from scrimmage is five yards, the same as for a pass beyond the line.

A kicked ball remains a kicked ball only until it has been in possession, scrimmage to end with change of possession; a punt is allowed on any free kick; accidental kicking of the ball is treated the same as if the ball had been merely touched by the player; penalty for any foul committed by the receivers simultaneously with or subsequent to the illegal touching of the ball by the kickers may be declined.

A foul occurring after the ball is out of bounds between the goal lines is considered a foul between downs since the ball was dead before the foul happened; strict enforcement of penalty for tackling a runner who is out of bounds is made mandatory; if a ball is touched simultaneously by two opposing players and goes out of bounds it is awarded the opponents of the team last in possession of the ball; a lineman who has been legally shifted to the back field may return in a subsequent quarter; coming to a stop is a prerequisite in making a fair catch.

Score Is 9 To 0 In City League Game At Ryantown Field

Ryantown topped the Colored Elks yesterday with "Fiz" Rodenbaugh on the knoll and allowing only one hit for the first eight innings, to give the Ryantowns a 9 to 0 victory.

Ryantown waited until the seventh and eighth innings to sew up the game, with three-run attacks in both chapters.

High Football Camp Opens Up

"Red Hurricanes" Go To Camp At Muddy Creek Falls For Week's Training

TEAM IS FACING DIFFICULT YEAR

The 1937 football season at New Castle high school officially opened today when 35 husky young gridders departed for camp at Muddy Creek Falls. The first practice session was held at 10 o'clock this morning.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh was not in a very jovial mood as the camp opened. The mentor realizes that his task this year is a tough one. There is very little experienced material on hand to build his "Red Hurricane" eleven. New Castle faces the toughest schedule in a great many years.

There are practically no veterans left on the team this season. A squad of eager young boys have gone to camp, and it may be that Bridy can mould them into a good football team, but the outlook is anything but good.

The first game of the year will be Friday night, September 10, at Taggart field with Har-Brack Union the attraction.

Assisting Bridenbaugh at camp will be Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, Bill Klee, Gig Thomas and Paul Cuba.

Radiators Cop Fourth Title

National Radiator Softball Team Compiles Enviable Record

When the National Radiator teammates romped off the Radiator field Friday evening with a 2-1 decision over the Nobils, they not only captured the 1937 City Softball league laurels but won the fourth title in five years.

Starting off with a defeat, the Rads got together and won 46 straight victories, toppling some of the strongest aggregations in the district. After capturing the first half race of the City Softball league, the Rads got off to a flying start the second half race. After winning 46 consecutive battles, the Rads were due for a let-down and dropped a contest to the Nobils. The defeat made the pennant race close. Friday's battle was the deciding game.

The Lineups.

The Radiator roster includes Fornataro, Ambrosia, Rubeis, G. Ross, Gairdo, Lockley, Stone, Copple, Greene, Cowmeadow, N. Ross, Mazzari, Hilton, DeCaprio, Cooper, J. Yerage and Llewellyn. For their efforts the Rads will receive a trophy awarded by Jack Gerson.

A sort of a resume of the Rads' record in past years:

In 1932 the Rads dropped the pennant to the Lockleys. Coming back strong in 33, the Rads got back the title by tumbling the East Side Merchants. In 1934 the Rads repeated, dumping the Ellwood Millers. In 1935 the Rads proved too much and won their third city league pennant, dropping the Saks. Defeat visited the Radiator camp once again in 1936 when the Croton club surprised by dumping the apple cart. This year's record of the Rads is already known and needs no further repetition.

Past champs:
1928—Lehigh.
1929—Wampum.
1930—Lockleys.
1931—Lockleys.
1932—Lockleys.
1933—Radiators.
1934—Radiators.
1935—Radiators.
1936—Croton.
1937—Radiators.

Secretary Fred Marcella announced the final league standing for both halves as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Rads	32	2	.941

Stock Market Tone Is Firm

Pivotal Issues Recover Point Or More Of Losses Sustained Last Week

By LESLIE GOULD

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The stock market developed a firm tone starting the new week, pivotal issues recovering a point or more of the heavy losses sustained last week.

The trend was upward from the opening, and virtually all sections of the list participated. Trading, however, continued at the slow pace of recent weeks.

Steel shares led the way upward, rails, coppers, mail orders, utilities, oils also were improved.

Several leaders chalked up gains of a point or more. These included U. S. Steel, Republic, Bethlehem and Youngstown, Sears Roebuck, American Smelting and Anaconda, Chrysler, Air Reduction, and Westinghouse Electric.

Libbey-Owens-Ford, ex-dividend 1½, spurted 3 points at one time, while Eastman Kodak gained 2. Radio again was an active low-priced feature on a fractional advance.

Gains elsewhere in the list were mostly of fractional proportions.

Most commodity markets were sluggish. Grains were almost a cent a bushel lower at Chicago and Winnipeg, while wheat dropped slightly more at Minneapolis. Cotton continued its persistent decline, losing about 50 cents a bale. Bonds were quiet and steady, including U. S. government issues.

Stocks abroad continued to mark time, as international brokers anxiously watched far eastern developments. The Paris bourse closed steady and quiet, while London turned in a similar performance.

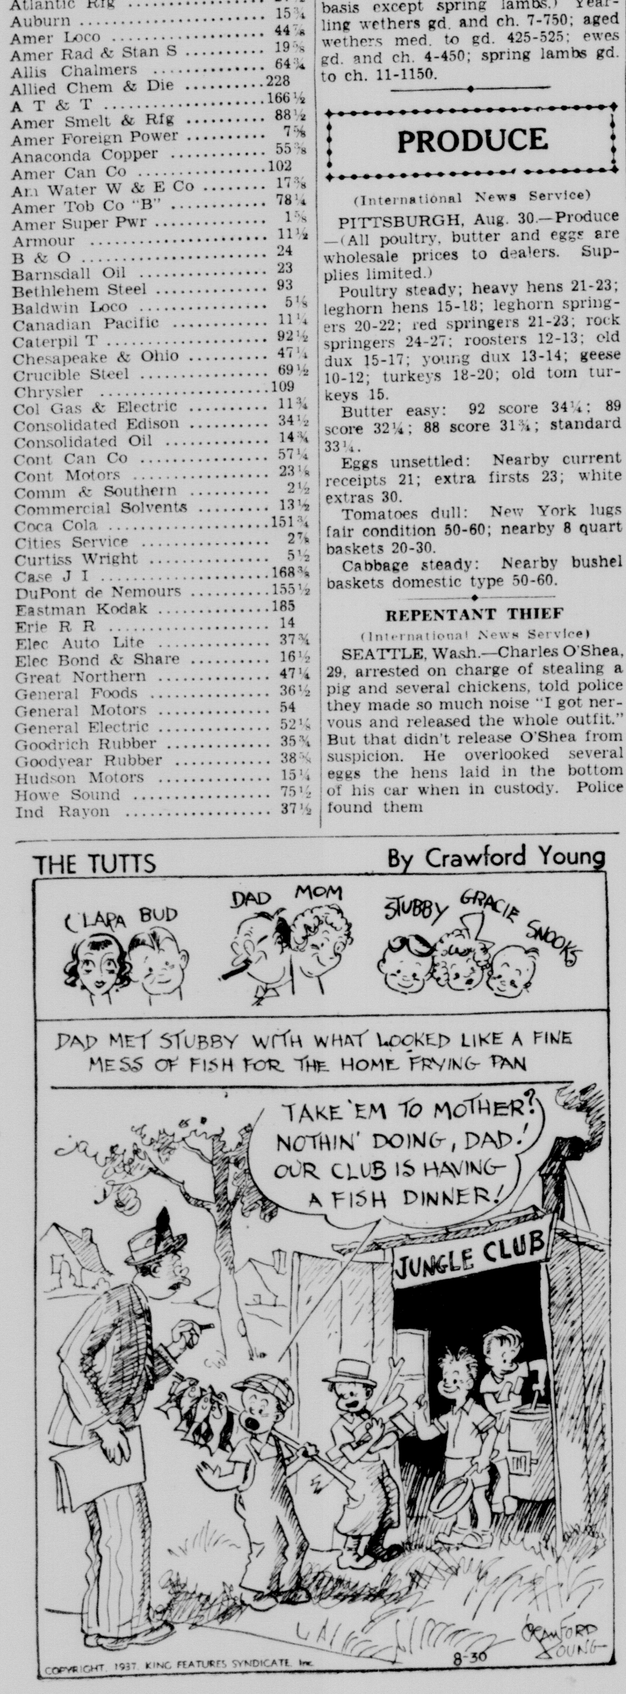
THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young



BLAME BOMBING UPON CHINESE PLANE SQUAD

tionalist government reluctantly admitted Chinese airplanes were responsible for this latest international incident of China's bloody war, which threatens to involve the United States to a greater degree than ever before.

They insisted, however, that it was an "accident" but American and other foreign observers here, highly indignant over this new affront to neutral immunity, were at a loss to understand such an explanation.

From fragmentary reports of the incident pieced together here tonight, it appeared the Chinese air fleet had been sent out to harass and attack a Japanese troop transport steaming across the Yellow Sea.

Transport Attacked

The transport reached a point near the Yangtze lightship at about the same time as the President Hoover. One report said the transport exchanged fire with the attacking planes, but this was not confirmed.

However, at 7:45 p. m., Captain Yardley sent his first urgent call for assistance to Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander of the American Asiatic squadron, on duty aboard the flagship Augusta in the Whangpoo river.

Sent under the stress of excitement and fire emergency, Captain Yardley's brief messages confined themselves to appeals for aid instead of furnishing details of the incident.

"We are being bombed," his first message read. "Rush medical assistance."

"Planes are returning," said a second flash. "Please rush medical aid. We have been hit and there are injuries."

Aid Is Sent

Admiral Yarnell, whose own flagship was struck by an anti-aircraft shell only a few days ago with one death and 18 injuries resulting, responded with alacrity. He ordered the destroyers Edsall and Parrott to proceed to the scene at full speed.

In the meantime, however, the Cumberland, observing the courtesies of the sea, had rushed to the President Hoover's assistance. She was only five miles away when the liner was hit and her lookouts clearly saw the Chinese planes circle overhead and then dive to drop their instruments of death.

The Cumberland made the President Hoover's side in record time and her surgeon clambered aboard. In less than half an hour, he had performed emergency operations on two members of the crew who were badly injured.

Passengers Shocked

The passenger victims of the latest outrage were found to have suffered only from shock resulting from concussion of the three bombs which hit the luxury liner. More than 25 jagged holes were torn into the ship's super-structure above the water line, but she was not rendered unseaworthy and proceeded to Kobe, Japan, under escort of the Parrott.

The President Hoover, one of the many ships of the Dollar line fleet which had evacuated more than 2,500 Americans from Shanghai during the past two weeks, was returning to this battle-scarred port from Manila when the bombing occurred.

Captain Yardley had orders to pick up as many additional refugees as his ship would accommodate, and the vessel was anchored off the lightship awaiting a proper tide to swing into the Yangtze river when the planes appeared overhead.

Panic Ensues.

Passengers aboard the ship rushed to the rails, more curious than frightened, and thrilled to the thought of witnessing a combat on the high seas. Incredulity and panic then followed when the attackers, instead of streaming out toward their legal prey, circled back over the liner and unleashed their hail of death and destruction.

Observers here regarded it miraculous that the President Hoover was not hit in a vulnerable spot. One bomb crushed into her dummy funnel and another hit on the starboard side. Both splintered into a thousand fragments, hurling jagged shrapnel over the vessel's decks, another which struck in the aft section took the heavy toll of injured among the crew.

Admiral Yarnell immediately ordered the liner President McKinley, due here on Wednesday with a large passenger list, including many Chinese students returning from the United States, to avoid Shanghai.

This gave rise to early reports he had ordered all American passenger shipping to keep out of this port until hostilities cease. Such a measure is being considered, it was learned, unless adequate guarantees are given against a repetition.

U. S. Ambassador Makes Call.

United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson called at the Chinese foreign office in Nanking to inform officials of the incident. He said it was customary to call attention of the foreign office to any incident in China or in Chinese waters involving American interests no matter who else might be involved. Ambassador Johnson communicated full details of the incident to Washington.

Among those aboard the President Hoover originally scheduled to disembark here were A. L. Mandel, American paper manufacturer; R. S. Litchfield, United States Life Insurance company manager, and Mrs. C. V. Starr, wife of the president of the American Asiatic Underwriters' association.

To Pick Up Refugees.

Decision of Admiral Yarnell to send the President Hoover direct to Kobe without stopping here because of the risk of new attacks left a large number of refugees temporarily stranded.

The President Hoover was returning to Shanghai from Manila to pick up additional refugees when she was hit. An earlier tragedy had marked her voyage when Norman G. Harris of Rochester, N. Y., a director of the British-American Tobacco company, leaped overboard.

Harris had been taken to Manila with several hundred others refugees but refused to land. Officials of the liner expressed belief he had been unbalanced by the horrors of hostilities in Shanghai.

EX-SERVICE MAN BURIED

Funeral Services For J. R. Williams Take Place At Valor Ridge

On the sun-drenched slope of Valor Ridge in Castle View Burial park Saturday afternoon a group of ex-service men gathered to lay away the remains of a comrade they had never known in life, J. Rogers Williams of Shreveport, Louisiana. Mr. William was killed at the Harlansburg intersection a week ago in an automobile accident.

He was a stranger in New Castle but he was an American veteran. The fact that he had no funds upon him for burial or that his family was unable to either send money or come here for the funeral made no difference. He was a veteran and through the services of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion he was given the rites to which all veterans are entitled.

The funeral Saturday afternoon was an impressive ceremony. There is a reverence about a military funeral that grips the most cynical and as the rifles barked out their salute to the dead one felt that this funeral was the fulfillment of the statement of Major General William G Price when he dedicated the veterans' section some weeks ago and said, "this community is to be congratulated that here veterans have not been forgotten in the two decades since the war, you are to be congratulated that here men of heart have provided a beautiful and honored plot on this hilltop that no veteran ever need lie in a potters' field.

Saturday this telegram was received by David Tobin, commander of the Perry S. Gaston Post, No 343, American Legion, from the widow of the late J. Rogers Williams.

Shreveport, La.

Commander David Tobin,
Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343,
American Legion, New Castle, Pa.

I want to thank you and your Legion Post for your kindness in our sorrow. I could not be there financially impossible. Would love to hear particulars . . . . Let me thank you again for your personal interest in us.

Mrs. Bessie Williams.

Do Not Drink From Any Shallow Well

Health Officer Dr. W. L. Steen Issues Warning To Public

Dr. William L. Steen, health officer for the city, stated today that he does not approve of drinking water from any shallow well in the built up sections of the city.

He said a shallow well is any well less than 40 feet in depth and no matter how pure it may be when the test is taken is liable to contamination by surface water during a heavy storm or by seepage through the soil from cess-pools, or broken sanitary sewers at any time.

Dr. Steen said that an investigation showed that the three persons had typhoid fever here this summer but in each case the patient had been on a vacation trip and had been drinking from various sources with no knowledge of their purity.

Kin Of Residents Dies In Highway Crash In Delaware

Niece Of Mr. And Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Reading Resident, Victim

Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt R. Campbell of East North street received word Saturday night of the death of their niece, Bessie Gwendolyn Moore, aged 22 years, who met sudden death in an automobile accident near Wilmington, Del.

She was a daughter of Bessie Campbell Moore and the late McCormick G. Moore of Reading, Pa.

She was born in Reading and lived practically all her life there, excepting the last few years she was in school, finishing her schooling in Fairmont college, Washington, D. C., in May of this year.

Her mother, Mrs. Bessie C. Moore, was spending a few days with her brother and his wife at East North street, when the sad news was received. Miss Moore was a girl with a lovable disposition, with friends in Reading and Washington, D. C., where she attended school, and will be missed by her friends as well as her relatives in this community.

The body was taken to Reading, where it was prepared for burial, and where the services will be held tonight in the Auman funeral home, after which it will be removed to the Campbell funeral home in this city and interment will take place Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Neshannock cemetery at New Wilmington, beside her father, who passed away four years ago. A short service will be held at the cemetery by Dr. S. A. Kirkbride of New Wilmington.

Miss Moore attended the Presbyterian church in Reading, Pa.

She leaves her mother, Mrs. Bessie Campbell Moore of Reading, and one brother, McCormick G. Moore, Jr., of Reading, Pa.

Wants To Remedy Grant Street Trouble

Council Visits Grant Street Where Water Overflows Street During Storms

Director of Streets B. F. Butler in council meeting at the city hall today urged his colleagues to view the outlet of the West Grant street sewer where it enters the Shenango river. His colleagues accompanied Butler to the section following the meeting.

He told his colleagues that following each heavy rain storm the water backs up and overflows Grant street. The big pipe is clogged by dirt in the river, Butler stated. He urged that a steam shovel be used to remove the dirt which would alleviate the condition for some time to come.

Driscoll Back From Europe

Gratified To Get Back To "Good Old Pennsylvania" He Says

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 30.—Dennis J. Driscoll, chairman of the Public Utility Commission, returned to his desk today following a brief European vacation declaring:

"I wouldn't trade Pennsylvania for the whole of Europe."

Driscoll, who combined business and pleasure during his brief tour of England, investigated the British system of utility control, considered to be one of the finest in the world, and found Pennsylvania had "little to learn from it."

The PUC chairman and former congressman from the 20th district said he conferred with officials regulating the British utility system and found they were "amazed" to learn that it was just recently that utilities in this state were forced to pay for the commission's expenses.

The British utilities he said, had been doing this for years.

"Things look prosperous in England, prices appear to be slightly higher, but give me good old Pennsylvania," Driscoll told International News Service in his first interview upon returning to his desk.
